Employment

Portland VA Computational Sleep Lab, Research Assistant 2015–Present
Principal Investigator: Miranda M. Lim, M.D., Ph.D.

- Performed primary data analysis & cleaning, programming, and advanced statistics for this multi-disciplinary lab.
- Used a combination of R and Python to analyze large repositories of brain electroencephalography (EEG), animal behavior, biometric, and clinical data.
- Gained proficiency in animal handling, EEG signal processing, sleep scoring, rodent surgery, and animal behavior.

UCSB Vision & Image Understanding Lab, Undergraduate Research Assistant 2013–2015
Principal Investigator: Miguel P. Eckstein, Ph.D.

- Played a critical role in the development, execution, and debugging of MATLAB-based experiments focusing on machine learning, computer vision, and human-computer visual interfaces.

Education

University of California, Santa Barbara 2011–2015
B.S. Pharmacology, B.S. Biopsychology

Professional Development

Oregon Health & Science University 2016
Estimation and Hypothesis Testing for Applied Biostatistics (BSTA 511)
Instructor: Michael R. Lasarev, M.S.

- Earned an A grade while using R in this Stata-based course.
- Tuition covered by Principal Investigator of current employment.

Johns Hopkins University 2015
R Programming
Instructor: Roger D. Peng, Ph.D.

- Completed this Coursera course with distinction, achieving a grade of 99%.

Invited Presentations

Associated Professional Sleep Societies (APSS) annual SLEEP meeting, Denver, CO.
Sleep Disruption is Associated with Fearful Behavior in a Mouse Model of Post-Traumatic Stress. 2016.

Associated Professional Sleep Societies (APSS) annual SLEEP meeting, Denver, CO.
Developmental Sleep Fragmentation Impairs Social Development in Male, but not Female, Prairie Voles. 2016.
